

Information for Patients, Consumers and Carers on Admission to the Armadale Mental Health Service Procedure

1. Applicability

Site	Operational Area	Applicable to
Armadale Mental Health Service	All areas	Medical Nursing Allied Health Administration

2. Purpose

The Armadale Mental Health Service, (AMHS), is to ensure its services provide the consumer and carers information on admission to the service. This is for the purpose of:

Collaboration with the consumer, and carer as appropriate, in assessment, treatment, review and discharge.

Informing consumers and carers of their rights and responsibilities.

Ensuring consumer and carer rights under the Western Australia Mental Health Act 2014.

Highlighting crucial contact numbers and key workers.

Addressing some frequently asked questions.

Providing information on pathways and contacts to external service providers.

3. Procedure

An instruction that clearly prescribes the actions of each step of a process to be taken and by whom. The process is described from the perspective of the person who is to undertake the procedure.

3.1 Mental Health Service Information packs

1. On admission to the AMHS all consumers will be provided with an admission pack, which is descriptor of the admitting service and other relevant information to ensure they are informed of the care process and process of raising concerns.
2. The AMHS provides three admission packs (inpatient, CRHTT and community) containing information for consumers, patients, carers and their Personal Support Persons (PSP).
3. These packs are collated by clerical staff members.
4. The Inpatient Admission pack contains a letter regarding visual observations, information about consumers' rights and responsibilities, complaint processes, and Mental Health Advocacy Service.

5. The Community Mental Health Admission pack contains information regarding the ATT and CTT and Older Adult services, information about consumers' rights and responsibilities, complaint process and the Mental Health Advocacy Service.
6. Consumers admitted to Jacaranda House receive an orientation program prior to admission, attending the orientation with the Care Coordinator
7. The Care Coordinator/Allocated Clinician should discuss the contents of the booklet with the consumer, and their PSP, to provide clarification on the services provided and to allow the consumer and PSP to discuss their expectations. All information regarding consumer rights and responsibilities and those of the PSP, should be provided and discussed in a way that is understandable to them.
